

Differentiation is easy with on- and below-grade-level text pairs for science and social studies.

- Access the same concepts and vocabulary at different reading levels.
- Reference identical text forms and graphic features.
- Rely on explicit support for teaching comprehension skills.

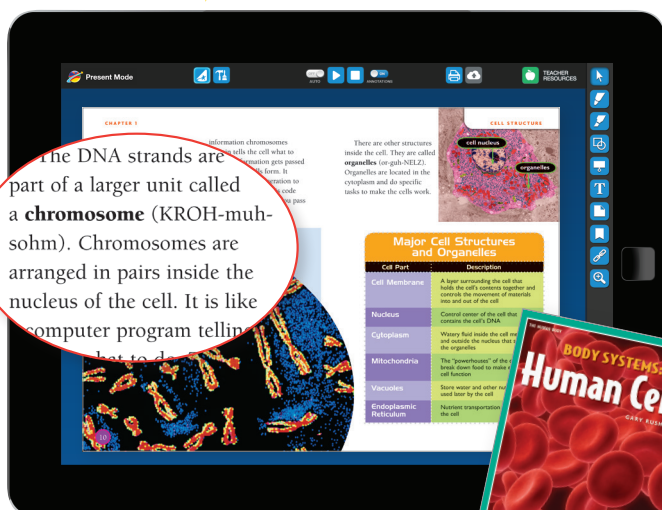

“I love the materials—they are excellent. High interest for the kids, [a lot] of resources, all the pieces are there. And the teachers really like the multi-leveled texts, where the lower-level books look the same [as the on-level books].”

—Literacy Coordinator, Mayberry Elementary School, East Hartford, CT
